We are looking for someone who would give our pit bull a good home. He is looking for a training partner and friend, since he has a case of the munchies. He is very timid but can also be playful and energetic. He will be neutered soon but can be saved from being neutered before the 5th of November. Adoption fee $120.00 applies but I can help if needed. (I will explain why the adoption fee is involved if interested)

If you are interested in this beautiful pooch please e-mail me as soon as possible and I will reply with my phone number available. I love him very much but I can't take care of him due to living situations. I will really appreciate your interest in this big puppy... God bless you and have a wonderful day!!!! :D

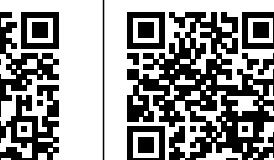

His name is Blu by the way(:
