So the deal is i just cleaned up my credit from all the collections and inquiries etc .. etc..

I'm qualified for a loan if i only have at least 3 Authorized user accounts .

Which means if somebody can help me by adding me as an Authorized user for one single month.

Authorized user is basically adding me on a credit line that you have , it will in no way shape or form affect your credit . It can only affect mine and there is no way i have access to any accounts .

I'm sure any person with good credit will know what i'm talking about.

I want to start a phone business and i'm qualified for a loan but only if i have 3 lines of credit with 5k or more for 3 years plus and in good standing , like no late payments and small utilization close to 20 % only.

All you got to do is add me and it will appear on my credit for a month and that will give me an opportunity to get a 50k loan to start my phone business.

Besides helping a young person start a career i will reward you handsomely with 5k with written contract between us .

Email me ..very much
