Hello!

On November 13 in the early evening I will be embarking on a (roughly) 12 hour drive to Grand Rapids Michigan to For a friend's wedding and to visit my girlfriend. I am looking for someone to accompany me for part or all of the trip and also who will be willing to chip in on gas.

some things about me.

24 years old, male, banker, experienced driver,

I grew up in Michigan and still have some very close friends there so i make this drive pretty often.

I drive a mini cooper so I can only take 1 or 2 people besides myself (however the 2nd person should understand that they will be a little crowded as the backseat of my car is not roomy).

i'm totally cool with dropping off or picking up people or things along the way, Detroit, philadelphia, ohio, as long as its on the route i'm happy to make the stop.

I plan to start my return trip on the morning of 11/22 My dates and times are pretty much solid so please don ask me to change them.

If interested feel free to send me an email. Expect a quick reply.
