I have an adorable pup named Pepper. She is about 8 months old and has not yet been fixed. She's full of energy and extremely sweet and affectionate and I hate to have to find a new home for her but unfortunately I recently took a promotion that takes up an inordinate amount of my time and I simply don't have the hours in the day to give her the love and attention she really needs. She is just about full grown and is a pretty small dog- she basically just looks like a miniature pitbull. I am asking a small rehoming fee of $50 simply to make sure she goes to a good home. She has a small kennel that you can also have and her collars etc. Attached are some pictures, please feel free to email me with questions and we can set up a time for you to meet:)
