I found this cat, she is very sweet but Fiesty at times. I had her hidden at a friend's because I have to many pets of my own, and I cannot have anymore, but since I couldn't keep her there any longer, I brought her home but she has become very shakey, she has not come in contact with my animals because I'm worried my dogs will react, she loves people, but not other animals. I am working with her everyday to save her from being put down, I know if someone could give her the attention she needed she would be a great house cat. Now don't get me wrong, she is Fiesty but she also has alot of love to give and she needs a lot of love in return, which I can't give her because I am too busy, I am looking for someone to adopt her who will make sure she has lots of attention.

When I found her she was already spayed and has all her shots, hopefully someone could help me out and take this cat so she doesn't end up becoming depressed. SHE DOES NOT DO WELL WITH OTHER ANIMALS... there is a small rehoming fee to guarantee she ends up somewhere safe. I would like to keep up with her progress so do not message me if you are not serious about helping this sweet little.
