Looking for women to participate in the making of an educational Breastfeeding Documentary. The documentary is being created to educate women on the wholesome benefits of breastfeeding, is purely educational in nature and will be utilized by non profit clinics and lactation consultants.

Who can participate?

- Women currently breastfeeding
- Women who are drug free and professional in appearance.
- Women who are willing to share their stories with other women while discussing breastfeeding on camera

Who is NOT eligible to participate?

- Mothers who are not currently breastfeeding
- Women who are not comfortable with sharing their stories while being filmed.

What is expected of me during the documentary? All participants will be asked to discuss their reasoning behind the decision to breastfeed, the benefits of breastfeeding, success stories, and advice on breastfeeding. Each participant will also be demonstrating breastfeed techniques and/or manual expression techniques (using a pump or by hand).
