My family and i are looking to give a big bully a great home. We are only interested in an adult, male or female. Our main concern is that it be a big ass baby..zero aggression issues and house trained is the main thing we are concerned with..we are familiar with the breed and have a fenced in yard and plenty of family members to spread the love. We are only interested in free or super low adoption fee. We want to save one that needs a home for whatever reason. I know what some of you are thinking but we are wanting to offer a forever home to a sweet bully that is in need. We are aware of breeder pricing thanks but we just choose not to go that route..thanks for looking and i can be reached anytime @
