It's sad to say, but we need to re-home two of our cats due to lack of space and some issues our other cat has with Luna and Oliver.

They are both beautiful cats, and have lived with dogs and other cats without issues (again, the issues are with our 3rd cat not Oliver or Luna). Luna is a beautiful calico female and Oliver (who we nicknamed McDorkus) is a wonderful ginger. They both have very interesting and entertaining personalities. These twins are 9 years old, they're both fixed and are FIV negative!

Luna loves to be petted, and will snuggle up on your lap for hours. Her favorite toy is a laser pointer and will sometimes beg you to use it.

Oliver McDorkus is a real dude. He isn't a lap cat but will give you head butts, and sit next to you or near your head or neck purring like a motor. McDorkus is a funny cat and not the most graceful gentleman (hence his name) but he is full of love. His favorite toy are small fuzzy mice.

Luna is an excellent hunter and will catch any rogue moth in the house. McDorkus likes to think he is, but might fall off the table trying to catch one. Don't worry - he never gets hurt - just a little confused as to what happened.

Both cats are talkers and will beg for attention by talking to you and placing a little paw on your arm or leg as if to say "what's up"

They were brought in as a sister and brother pair so we are looking for someone who will love them as a pair or both.

They will come with an automated litter box (but are very laid back with their litter needs so you won't need to use it if you don't want to). They will also come with their favorite toys.

Both cats are healthy, but they do need to have their yearly vet visit. However, we've kept them indoors for the past couple of years due to outdoor-related issues with our other cat. So they haven't been exposed to anything. They can go outside and enjoy it if you want to give them that option in the future.
