I have a female leather-back bearded dragon who was a rescue from a very bad situation. I believe she is about 2 years old but very small for her age. She had very poor nutrition and until I got her did not have any uv light and very little heat. When i get her she was barely able to walk but now she can run. Since before she had no use of her front legs she does walk rather oddly but thats the only way she is able to use her front legs. She cant climb very well so she has a 30 gallon breeder (like the 40 breeder but shorter). She gets a little freaked out when picked up but once up she is a sweetie. She comes with her cage, hide, log, bowls. (sorry lights not included). $150.
