One of the most common types of personal injury cases is an injury due to accident caused by an automobile, truck, or bus. As a Chicago personal injury attorney experienced in these matters, DeAgostino Law, P.C. can handle all types of auto accident lawsuits.

If you have been involved in an auto accident, it is important that you file a police report with the local authorities so that an Illinois Traffic Crash Report can be generated . This report serves as a key piece of evidence in reporting your claim to the insurance companies and also serves as a written narrative as to the details of the auto accident.

Under Illinois law, as the victim of an auto accident you may be entitled to certain rights, including compensation for medical bills, vehicle damage repairs, wage loss for missed time at work, pain and suffering, and loss of future earnings. If the unimaginable happens and a death is involved then you may be able to file a wrongful death lawsuit. DeAgostino Law, P.C. can help you recover the monetary damages you are entitled to in the event of an auto accident. Our experienced attorneys are here to help you get through this difficult time both personally and financially.
