Hello I have a puppy that is somewhat special needs. at less that a week old he got his leg caught in the whelping box and it was broken. they vet at the time said he didn't think it broke and that he would be fine. Well he is 8 weeks old and uses it fine and he is growing just fine. and may continue to grow with absolutely no problems, but just because there is a possibility of future issues we have reduced him to less than half price. he is a beautiful puppy and has a wonderful personality. He will come with full AKC papers and he is
