I've been writing music since I was 13 and have always had a passion for writing rap. Ive been told I'm very good at it. The only problem is, I cant actually rap. So I'm looking for someone to write for, split costs, and work together to get our names known. I get recognized for being a writer you get recognized for your rapping, we both win. I have talked to a studio already and am ready to start recording. If you're interested send me a video of you rapping any song, your age, where your from, and a little about yourself so I can write songs that can go along with your.
