Location Arizona

First of All Congratulations on your Upcoming Wedding or other Event. Let's make it fun, classy and easy and professional as far as the DJ service. I can not only get your "cool friends" who like to party out their dancing, I can play proper background music through dinner, and help MC your event. These are often events with many age groups and finicky relatives that want to have a great time celebrating YOUR DAY, so with proper music flows, I can make YOUR BIG DAY go smooth and FUN, and in the process, I can even please Aunt Betty and your "20 something hip friends" who want to dance also.

This is a once in a lifetime event/and celebration; You deserve a Wedding DJ who can set a classy event mood with music and then get the party going and keep it going. You need a Wedding specialized MC and also accommodate any "special requests" you need from my 100,000 song catalog from 1950s to 2010s. I also update my catalog with the latest new music releases every Tuesday and I'm versed in Rock/Pop/Country/Blues and even other specialized genres(We can speak more about that if you retain me) :)

Most importantly, I arrive to your event appropriately dressed and clean cut and well before my appointed time as the last thing you need on your wedding day is "another vendor to worry about" . Make hiring my DJ Service for your special event the easiest thing you do.

Are you ready with you event calendar date in venue in hand and don't need to read further? Call me ASAP for date availability. CUT OUT THE MIDDLEMAN of a "TALENT" agency who can't give you the specific name of your actual DJ until a week before our life changing event and HIRE ME DIRECT BY MY FIRST DAY(YOUR wedding season has started) call now and get started on your date early. Do not wait with me 24/7. CALL NOW

Take this opportunity to know you will have a professional who can earn you business

If YOU CAN'T CALL TODAY Please read my info below before hiring ANY wedding DJ: Thanks! DJ Daniel

Before Hiring a "typical party or club DJ" consider this for the most important day of your life: IT'S YOUR BIG DAY so let me help you make a great event for family /friends/kids or ANY who attend your wedding:

The goal of these ideas is to show you what to consider when hiring a DJ for what is probably one of most important days in your life.

1) First you should determine how much to budget for your reception entertainment. If you include pre-ceremony or dinner music, a likely 2 to 3 hour meal at your reception and 3-4 hours of dancing and early setup and tear down at your Event site. Most weddings will take 7 to 10 hours out of the DJ's time not including Travel (this is 2 to 4 hours more than most "party" typical DJ events). Because of Scale of Time and Equipment budgeted to DJ your wedding event, GOING RATE that I WILL BEAT BY PHONE ONLY, CALL FOR BEST PRICE FOR YOUR EVENT: FYI, For most wedding events, Expect to spend anywhere from 400.00 to 1500.00 for an experienced wedding DJ with good equipment and pro and prior wedding experience and glowing references. (note I work with ANY financial situation including low deposit. I GIVE a "By phone only" discount if you already have date and venue set. YES: Don't email, don't text, CALL IMMEDIATELY 24/7 FOR BEST RATE. After we speak, I give you all the info and rate we discussed in WRITING by EMAIL right after our phone call. Yes, you only pay on what we agree on and nothing extra!)

2) Be sure that your potential DJ does specialize in wedding receptions. A good club DJ can sometimes be an awkward wedding DJ when it comes to pleasing your "new In Laws taste" along with Aunt Betty, or make awkward "F bomb mixes" when there are 8 year olds present. (When playing some modern music that might be explicit, I spin the "radio edit versions" at weddings, or avoid "cuss word songs" all together for family celebrations! Saying a good club DJ is a bad Wedding DJ is like saying Sandra Bullock can only play a bubbly airhead. A good DJ can match his crowd.

3) Be careful hiring friends and family unless they are true professionals in the DJ industry and you have reviewed their references, contract them in writing, know they have "pro equipment" big enough for doing premium stereo audio (not distorted 1 speaker audio) to your chosen venue/room and you have already witnessed their DJ performance at another wedding or other FORMAL event. Treat hiring the "$300 Friend DJ" just as you would someone you did not know.

4) A deposit / expectations written contract is especially important for hiring friends or family (my own agreement comes by email in writing and shows times. I also do a "pre planning" checklist 10 days before your event with "timelines" of reception start/my role as MC (or times to relinquish microphone if you want to MC) I also ahead of time pre plan with you expected roles ie father daughter, mother son, couples first dance and timing etc and avoids confusion or hurt feelings or family strife before or after the big day! Always remember it's your day, Not record scratching cousin Freddy's big day!). WE SCHEDULE a 10 Day before event conference call with "Song selection" checklist for "background music styling during meal", "First Dance as a couple" dance selection, timeline for bouquet and cake cutting :) ALSO , if your "previous Fly By Night" DJ flaked on you, CALL ME! I have been known to help out for last minute events if I'm available.

CONGRATS AGAIN on your upcoming wedding. CALL ME when you have date set and /or venue address handy! I can do an intimate backyard gathering for 50 or that rental hall inside that accommodates 500 :) DJ
