ive lost my grey and white cat he big and loving, likes to roll over for you. he is fixed. he the kind of cat that would never leave the yard, he a lazy cat. missing since after mardi gras.

now ive lost another one, all black, she big, scared, will run from you. this is another one that will not leave the yard. she always come out to eat, and then go back under the house.

comment: I don't know whats up with you people stealing peoples cats. but they are our children. if you have them or found them please return, thank you. esp. enemeys too .
