I am seeking a screenwriting partner for a fictional story or one based upon true events. Everything is open as far as the story. It will be a feature-length script.

I have written 3 feature scripts, a dozen shorts and garnered 11 merit certificates and a 3rd place award from various no-name festivals, always in the top 5%. I produced and directed a film using one of my action drama short scripts. I have written comedy, romance, action, drama, sci-fi and fantasy. I'm open to writing with a male or a female.

I collaborated on a script using an 9-page sci-fi horror outline with an LA-based writer. I also managed the illustration of graphic novel pages based on the same story. No sale yet.

It would be great to combine talents to create a great script and sell that story to a producer.

The only pay would be the proceeds from the story developed in any form/media. We would have a wga collaboration.
