We are three 20-somethings in Burlington who want to start a new co-ed a cappella group! Two of us sang a cappella in college and we all want to create a group that meets once or twice a week to arrange and perform a cappella music. Our tastes lean towards contemporary pop, rock, indie, and alternative. We aim to have fun arranging songs and singing with each other - not necessarily becoming glamorous YouTube superstars or making it to The Sing-Off.

Please respond to this ad and/or join this Meetup (<http://www.meetup.com/Burlington-A-Cappella-Group-auditions/>) if you are interested in auditioning for our group! If you e-mail, please tell us:

- * your voice part
- * your musical experience
- * what music you like to sing and listen to
- * when you are generally available to meet/rehearse

Based on everyone's availability, we will find a few days in December or January to hold auditions. All voice parts welcome. Hopefully you will have a good musical ear, can hold your own part, and have some experience singing with others: collegiate a cappella, choir, church singing,.
