Coming to Northern New Hampshire for a few days? Want some time without the children in tow? Want to keep the kids with you, but could you use an extra set of hands and eyes on an outing?

Or do you just need a night out without children?

I can stay with the children at your home, hotel, motel, camp, camp site, condo ... or take them on an outing ... or join you ... Vacationing up north with a group of friends/family and have multiple children? I've got a small "staff" of women to join me on child care jobs

References, Copy of Clean Driving Record, Clear Criminal Background Check are all available

About me: I raised my own son (now 25 and on his own) single handed and practically raised a few nephews and nieces who are all now flourishing as adults

I have operated a home day care, worked at a private day care, been a teacher's aide, taught CCD elementary to high school. I have also directed child care at a homeless shelter, tended to children for parents with court ordered classes, and led after school programs-- in both enrichment/at-school settings and institutional for tough kids who need a place to be. College credits in early childhood education.

A mature sitter is more reliable, accustomed to administering medications, can drive after midnight, is not afraid to accept responsibility who will take a "baby" seriously by being much older than the children. I have even picked up or dropped off kids or taken them to the activity you want. I have been playing the "what if" movies/television to help lining up.

At 46 I am mature, but still young enough to be energetic-- play outside and care for more than one child at a time.

I LOVE animals, so having them around is okay with me.

Check me out at my web page, Maura at Your Service.wordpress.com/child-care -- it has my rates/policies/review/photos etc. I also have profiles on Yelp! and Angie's List and facebook page
