QR Code Link to This Post I will occasionally peruse the rants n raves & politics sections of CL. Usually for a good laugh, or to gauge the political leanings of the fine folks in my city.

What's with the guy/gal that uses such big print??

Its almost as if he/she is speaking over everyone in the room, foisting upon them his/her misguided and poorly informed opinion at such a high decibel level as to drown out reason and logic.

It would seem that he/she believes that by simply repeating the same things over and over, louder and louder, he/she would somehow negate the facts and evidence presented by those he/she drowns out while simultaneously validating the incessant outpouring of defunct and manufactured ideas he/she presents.

Now, he/she seems riled, as evidenced by the frequency of his/her incoherent ramblings.

While I find such demeanor and lack of tact or class amusing, it gets a bit redundant, and as such, the loud drunk is eventually removed from the gathering.

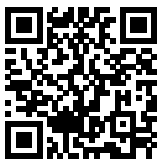

I believe now is that time.

Has anyone got any duct tape? Perhaps a pillowcase and a rope?

No?
