I brought her in, cleaned her up and now I am trying to find her a home. I have spoken to many shelters only to hear that there is no room for her and I would need to foster her while they "tried" to find her a home. We checked for a microchip and she does not have one. She is not fixed and we don't believe she has had any shots. she is a pure bred husky and my vet estimates her to be about 3 months old. She already weighs about 25 pounds, so she will be quite large when she is full grown. The vet said she appears to be very healthy with only a mild flea allergy. She's very smart and responds well when you correct her. She's pretty much completely house broken with only an accident here and there and she walks very well on a leash. She is also really good with kids and dogs
