QR Code Link to This Post I am seeking a provider who can do the leg work for me to assist in putting my dungeon together. This would include procurement of equipment, toys, furniture, location, as well as basic handyman work such as painting, lighting, outlets, and room design. I am located in Orlando, and seeking a very discreet provider to assist me with this. Of course compensation would be given. Please reach out to me via text message and or email if you are interested in moving forward. I am looking to have this completed before the 1st of the year. I am seeking someone who has actually done this before, and has the skills or knows someone who can actual do the basic construction.
