QR Code Link to This Post Get the information first! A local production company will be conducting open auditions for several new web series, mini movies, and features for 2017 production schedule. We are currently building an email database of actors both male and female that are interested in being part of the auditions. Interested actors will be getting audition dates first before we post on several sites for auditions. If interested please send name, email, and current head shot. You will be emailed about up and coming auditions weeks before we post it. We are doing it this way to give actors time to plan and schedule accordingly. We want a great turn out. We look forward to hearing from.
