QR Code Link to This Post We are looking for the perfect home for our 1.5 year old lab mix. He was fairly recently adopted from an animal shelter. The ONLY reason he needs a new home is because he can't get along with our cat. It's terrible to have to choose but we've had the cat for a while and our kids are quite attached. Other than not liking cats, he has been absolutely wonderful in every way. He's 100% house trained, amazing with adults and kids, isn't too hyper or energetic, and we trust him to be left alone inside the house. He doesn't have a kennel and does great. I have his vet records and is up to date. He's on heartworm and flea preventive. Currently he's 55 lbs and still a little under weight, but on great food and gaining good weight. Lastly, he absolutely loves attention, loves to cuddle, and has quickly bonded with me. Call or text for more.
