A European facial is a basic facial. It usually starts with the cleansing of the skin to remove make up, gentle steam and then there is an extraction process as needed to remove little impurities and blackheads that sometimes embed into pores. That's usually done with a very strong light behind a magnifying glass. The facial also includes exfoliation of the skin using a mask, and it normally also includes a neck and shoulder massage. It's probably one of the most well known facials and is very effective for the skin. Different products can be used. European Facial- Design for all types, an anti stress massage and mask for rejuvenation of the skin leaving skin rehydrated, fresh and radiant.
