QR Code Link to This Post I've assisted clients in bringing their books to readiness for publication, making their copy shine and eliminating errors, helping with style, content, structure, formatting and graphics. I am also adept at preparing manuscripts for self-publication, creating a book proposal for shopping it to agents and publishers, and developing post-publication marketing and media strategies. I can also ghost write your book and help develop initial book ideas into a viable concept.

I'm a highly experienced and widely and prominently published professional editor and writer with excellent references from people who have used my services via Craigslist. My rates are fair and.
