QR Code Link to This Post I'm a seasoned, professional musician who plays guitar, bass and drums for a living.

From time to time, I take on a few beginner students who are serious about learning how to play guitar, bass or drums.

I've taught children, teenagers, and adults such as lawyers, dentists and stockbrokers - all to different degrees of ability.

I've also helped some of my students learn about music gear, songwriting, going to jam sessions, being in a band and other real life musical situations.

MY LESSONS FOR BEGINNERS:

- Simple shortcut method with an emphasis on learning how to actually play your instrument
- Teaching you how to teach yourself so you need fewer lessons as you progress
- Weekly lessons until you reach the ability to continue teaching yourself Then lessons may be reduced to once every two weeks, once a month or as needed
- $25 for an hour full of stuff for you to take home and practice
 The real progress is made by your practice time at home working on what you've learned
