QR Code Link to This Post I believe this is called a "tote" but I'm not sure ... in any event, it's a small rolling suitcase. I've seen attorneys on their way to court rolling these behind them stuffed with documents. However, there's nothing to stop you from using it on an airline as I'm sure that's what its original purpose was. It would also be good for a sales person who has to take a lot of samples or literature to a meeting.

Like New -- excellent condition -- black -- lots of pockets and compartments.

Measures 14.5" wide x 11" deep x 14" tall (including wheels); 41" tall overall with handle fully extended.
