QR Code Link to This Post Hello All,

We are opening a new restaurant next year and we need a talented copywriter to help create our marketing materials (Website copy, print advertising, menu verbiage etc.). We are seeking someone that is creative, pithy and highly dependable when it comes to meeting deadlines. Other than that, we are open to a wide range of experience levels and professional backgrounds.

Once you reach out to express your interest, we will ask you two simple interview questions (answers are less than 5 words each) and we will use those responses (along with any other materials you choose to share) when screening candidates.

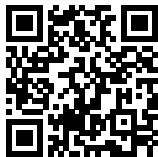

We look forward to hearing from you soon!
