Await you at one of the most pristine areas on the Big island of Hawaii.

On a ridge, high above the Waipio Valley exists some of the most spectacular scenery on the Island of Hawaii.

The sugar cane companies have long restricted access to this pristine area. Recently purchased by the Bishop Estate, the full impacts of these views are just now being discovered. These overlooks are only accessible on horseback, on foot, by 4-wheel drive, or by mountain bike. Even helicopters are not allowed to get that close to the rim above the valley floor.

Your journey begins at the Waipio Valley Artworks headquarters. Rugged views and extensive beauty awaits you on these tours. The spectacular Hi'ilawe falls, the valley floor, and the black sand beaches of the Pacific unfold before you.

Gently Rolling Hills, Mauna Kea, and the Valley mountains come into full view at the lookout. Here in a grove of Ohia trees , you pause to relax, have a beverage and discover the power of looking down into the Waipio Valley.
