QR Code Link to This Post Hey I'm Matt Antoniades, comedian and writer from mattantoniades.com. I'm putting out a comedy skit series and what I need are actors. Here's the gimmick: the skits are structured as phone conversations, and the reason for that is you'll be able to shoot your part of the dialogue yourself, your co-star in some remote, faraway region does the same, send it to me, and I'll edit it from there. So it will all be done independently and no one will have to meet up. It pretty low-budget (no budget, in fact) and unconventional, but it works okay.

Care to see what they look like? Check one out:

This isn't a paid gig, sorry to say. As you'll recall, I described myself as a writer and comedian, and that means there's no money to pay out. But you will get your name and acting talents seen by an expanding, enthusiastic, global audience. Also, I'll include whatever links and social media you'd like in the youtube video description.

Casting is underway for a lot of roles, male and female, age 18 and up. Let me know if this sounds like your kind of thing.!
