QR Code Link to This Post I cant believe the number of people on this site breeding their kittys just to make a quick buck These babies are being rehomed way to young without deworming or shots and not to mention flea infested for a really high price $100 to $250 The least you could do is give your babies the benefit of deworming and a simple salt water bath will help reduce the fleas safely in a tiny animal Truly you should all be fined for animal abuse There is no excuse for what you do and it is so obvious all you want is the money you could care less if they get an amazing home Also stating that you have given a tiny kitten under 12 weeks old is insane Treating a kitty that young with any flea treatment could easily kill
