QR Code Link to This Post Lakol Magazine is a bi monthly print and digital publication that promotes and tells the stories of Atlanta's diverse urban Black businesses and communities. We are currently looking for a team of strong professional sales people to help us secure advertising. This is a commission based position, with potential for future partnership for the right people.

Sales team will be given access to a google drive with printable materials, sales forms, etc. As well as meet once a month to receive magazines, promotional materials, business cards, etc. This is an independent opportunity that will require for you to be a team player, believe in the product, but more importantly work on your own. Support will be always available, but we're looking for people who know how to get results. Email your resume, a head shot, and a brief bio.
