QR Code Link to This Post Hey, guys, my name is Cameron, and I'm still kind of new to the Denver area, but I love photography and am in the middle of building my portfolio. I am looking for fellow photographers to go on shoots with or models who are trying to get shots done and would like to get together and make something happen. Males and females welcome. I'm mostly focusing on portraits and landscape photography right now, but I am open to most ideas.

You can check out my work on Instagram @camnez1 and on my website at www.cameronmartinez.com. Hopefully we can get something going. Not requiring a ton of experience, just want to get together with some fellow creatives and see what we can do. No pay, just the experience of working together. Feel free to text or call me at .!
