QR Code Link to This Post I have been stolen from and then left high and dry by my husband, just weeks before my birthday no less! I need a loan of $425.76 to pay off his early birthday present of an eviction notice. Can reply by the end of the month. Landlord won't wait that long, though and is happily standing by the eviction date. Which is my birthday. I have a great paying job, and wouldn't be here if he hadn't stolen.

Do not try to scam me, either. I will turn any email contact in to the proper authorities and have done so in the past. They WILL find you and WILL arrest you. I have a check coming 12/26. That's all the longer I need this for. I'm a deeply religious woman and do not believe in bringing harm or lying.

Thank you in!
