QR Code Link to This Post I have a 2002 Chevy Avalanche up for sale or trade. It has 240k on it and runs strong. Starts and drives no problem. Its in pretty good condition for the year. Interior is in good shape. Its green with grey cloth interior. Has power everything. Sun roof as well. Has a roof rack and it has the 3 panels to cover the bed. Has all new brakes and brake lines. Both front hub assemblies were done about a year ago. Drivers side window regulator was replaced, oil pressure sensor, blower motor all new.

It needs u-joints and it will need tires at some point.

If I am going to trade it, I am looking for a 2001 or newer suburban, Yukon xl, Yukon or Tahoe with 3rd row seating. We need more room. I am not looking for anything but those models.

Text or email for pictures.

As of right now it has a blown out transmission line. As is 2000, make an offer if you want it fixed.
