QR Code Link to This Post Are you an aspiring model? Are you struggling to get your career started, or get it to the next level?

I'm an agency photographer, and I've worked with many great model management companies in NYC. I shoot fashion advertisements, magazine editorials, and campaigns for up and coming designers in NYC. My next project is for a new gown and eveningwear designer, and I need a great new face.

I'm looking for a girl who's interested in a partnership for this and other projects down the line. Someone who wants to attend fashion and networking events, make connections, and put out stellar work. I can get a test model from plenty of agencies; I'm looking for someone who I can get to know personally as well as professionally.

If interested, I will put you in this project. I will shoot you a spectacular portfolio, I will get you signed with an agency, I will get you published, and I will get you booked. I'm hoping to get into Vogue and other top magazines in 2018, and I want someone to make this happen with.

Send over your portfolio, or some photos of yourself, and let's get!
