QR Code Link to This Post Please be aware of a guy named James says he is a mechanic here in Omaha, he has 2 kids a boy and a girl one is Autistic. He cant tell the truth of being married or single.

He is a fraud, says he wants the work to take care of his kids but then once hired he opts out and make several excuses of why he cannot complete the work. You can text him and call him and he will not respond for days on end and then when he does he fails to show up to work to do the job. One excuse he uses is his tools got stolen, he also uses his kids as an excuse of why he cannot come to work he has done this to many people in the community but then he stalks them to pay him for services not rendered. He lives in North Omaha. He likes to hang out at auto parts and junk yards. Also if you lend him your tools he breaks them and whatever he is trying to work on gets broken and mangled. Be
