Hello I need a Christmas miracle. The past few yrs have been rough on us especially the holidays since I was in a car accident. Please if there is someone out there with a heart the could help me out PLEASE I am not asking for cash and I am not asking for anything for myself. It would just break my heart if Christmas morning they had no presents to wake up to. My son still believes in Santa so I wouldn't know how to explain why he got nothing when they are both well behaved kids. I know there are other resources but they are closed now. I am praying that there is someone out there that could PLEASE help I'd greatly appreciate it. If u can and would like to know what they like please email me for info or if u have any other questions. Thank you and God

Christmas
