QR Code Link to This Post Good evening!

This is a little silly, but here goes. I'm a little down these days. I recently moved to the area and changed careers, and there have been a lot of changes for me. I'm looking for someone to listen to me, chat with me, and occasionally offer recommendations about life problems. Some days are easier than others.

I'd like someone to be reliable, and keep me accountable in my own good habits to reach my goals, which is why I'm looking here.

I've never done something like this before, outside of therapy, so I'm flexible on what the structure would look like. Right now I'm picturing 30-minute phone calls maybe 3x a week for 2 weeks [of course, with the potential to extend depending on fit/your interests], with a rate per hour. I am also open to exchanging other things for your time--I'm a pretty good proofreader, have a lot of experience teaching English, can do basic HTML/CSS website updates, etc. If you're interested in meeting in person, I could buy you a meal or drinks. Or hey, if you're also going through sad things and just want a friend too, we could totally do that!

Really, if you have empathy and like to help others and listen, this is a great fit. No counseling experience needed-- this is great for anyone looking to make extra money for the holidays coming up, or who would like to break into the counseling or social work field! Just send me a message with some info about yourself and we'll go from there!
