QR Code Link to This Post I am traveling from Weymouth MA, which is just south of Boston, to Orange California , which is just south of Los Angeles. I'm hoping to find someone cool and normal thats to travel with and throw in some money towards gas. Have been planning on driving alone but only recently decided some company would be nice. Even if your unable to completely split the gas costs I'm sure we could figure something out.

A little about me : I'm 31, Irish, grew up in Quincy but had been living in California the past 5 years, been back in MA for the past 6 months for my father's funeral and spend time with my family. I'm really easy going, like to laugh and definitely listen to lits of different types of music along the ride. I've made this ride before a few years ago except I drove to San Francisco that time. I'm driving a Lexus , I do vape , don't mind if u smoke ... Planning on leaving later this week or weekend depending on a few things.. feel free to contact me with any questions ..m know it's kind if short notice but it's a good deal for someone trying to get out west , have room for suitcase's and stuff as....
