QR Code Link to This Post Looking for a good home for these puppies (7 weeks old). My husband and I just just moved to the area with our kids and we don't have the time or space to house all these little guys and we don't know enough people in the area to feel comfortable selling. My kids love these babies and just want to make sure they make it to a loving home so if you're interested please text me! Preference will be given to homes with kids so please let me know a little bit about you in your message and we can work out a time for you to come pick one out!

Lots of Love xoxo
