QR Code Link to This Post Oh hey there. Glad you opened this post. Means so much to me <3 so I'm looking for a room close to work. Currently living on Bainbridge.. Which is taking way too much time to commute back and forth to work. I work for a bar in Seattle. Sooo I'm kind of awkward about explaining myself to everyone so I'll keep it short and simple.. Everyone seems to like me so I guess that means I'm awesome. I grew up in Texas and just recently moved out here for this wonderful places total lack of mosquitoes and higher mortality rate. There's spiders but I like spiders. I wouldn't keep one as a pet though. For some reason it would bother me knowing its there while I'm sleeping. Just looking at me. Rather see one in the woods. Also the woods are awesome here. I'm also scared of videos and pictures of things deep in the water.. But I'm not scared to go to the beach and swim and would even go diving If I had the chance. I cried and refused to watch an IMAX movie of marine life on a field trip one time. Wasn't the lowest point of my life. I eat peanut butter n syrup allot. My favorite thing to eat besides spaghetti. My favorite movie of all time is little shop of horrors. Always has been. Nothing will change that, asshole. I smoke weed every day.. Well mostly at night and not.. Too too much? I smoke cigarettes too but never inside. I don't do other drugs though. Not because I think they're bad or anything. Just been there done that and they're not great. I want a big wall in my room so I can use a projector on it. I play the shit out of Mario. I don't have my nes though :(all I got is this portable Genesis rom player/gameboy situation. Got 440 games on it including like 30 different fan made modded versions of sonic plus somebody ported the original Super Mario Bros into a Sega rom.. So I got that. And a version of sonic with Mario as the Sprite. Plugs into the TV to.. So that's a perk of having me live with you. You'll have access to that. Favorite band is Tool but I find myself listening to either Gorillaz or Era radio stations allot. I also love my privacy and alone time. I will respect yours. I'm not religious but I believe in God.. Or at least someone higher than us to see us though this. Allot of my beliefs come from things I've experienced through meditation.. Some eastern philosophies and things I experienced in trippier days from years ago and just life itself. I wanna grow dammit. . I absolutely do not preach nor have any feelings against people who don't believe the same way I do.. Everyone is different. I feel pretty stable and content with my life besides having this ferry rule my life. I'm on it right now writing this. Im straight but completely comfortable with any sexual orientation. Also I love you. If you wanna get ahold of me by phone you have to text. I don't pick up for numbers I don't recognize. Not sure where that originated from. I always think it's someone I don't wanna hear from or someone with bad news or both. I know I use to work in a dish network call center.. That was stressful. But I'm pretty sure I was like that.
