We're talking the solution to life's timeless and most desired element of life for of all mankind. How to Live life to the fullest, achieve your deepest desires, how to obtain all that you want on a material, emotional, and physical level, and how to be unbelievably, blissfully, euphorically happy!

The Sweet Life Project is the ultimate of all social experiments and experiences for those who participate and, if done correctly, will change life for you, as you know it, and bring out that person that you always new you were meant to be, living the life you've always dreamed of. No more settling for less, no more wishing you had more than you do, no more settling for a sub-par level of happiness. This is it, this is your opportunity to draw that line in the sand and become the person of your dreams living your ultimate life! I am going to help you get there.

The Sweet Life Project is my attempt at perfecting the method by which to "Find Life's Sweet Spot" and share it with those who are not happy with their life, are stuck in a rut, feel they were destined for more than their current circumstances, are bored, are curious, unlucky, or simply just want to know how to achieve anything they desire.

What do you have to lose? Participate in the Sweet Life Project and see where it takes you! Spaces are limited so if you've received an invite you have 24 hours to accept or run the risk of losing out on your chance forever. Participation is by invite only, however, you may request an invite, but there is no guarantee you will receive one.

You will want to shout from the rooftops what you have learned but due to the required signed NDA you will have to sign to participate you will be unable to. You will, however, have the opportunity to write about your experience and be included in not 1 but 2 published books and receive a portion of the sales of the books.

THIS IS THE ULTIMATE CHALLENGE, TO LIVE LIFE TO IT'S FULLEST. This is your 1 life. You only get 1 shot to do it right and this will help you get there!

To make the experience even more interesting and beneficial, contests, challenges, events, and promotions and the opportunity to win cash and prizes will be added along the way! There will be no shortage of fun, adventure, excitement and genuine life changing experiences!

All participants will have the opportunity to compete for $10,000.

I am R. Honey and This is the Sweet Life Project! Let me help make your life sweeter!

Spaces are limited- so request or accept your invitation today!
