QR Code Link to This Post We have flying squirrels in our attic. We are looking for someone with a 100ft ladder to fix a piece of soffit that fell during a storm, so they will stop getting in our home. They think it is some sort of playground up there and keep waking us up, because they are loud as hell. Before they eat our wires and whatnot, someone please help! We would do it ourselves, but we do not have a ladder that large. I am looking for someone licensed, because I don't want to be sued for a fall or anything. I had to click on unlicensed because I am not sure what info they are asking for, but i want someone licensed and a quote would be.
