QR Code Link to This Post I have a brand new BowdupLoader winch system. What is it?, well, its a mounting plate and winch with all the wiring and hardware to put a winch on the front bed rail of your UTV. This one is made for the Polaris 500-800 but may fit others. If you have a dump bed, this makes it more usable, not just for dumping, but loading. Hunting season means, you don't need to drag that kill or try and load it up in your UTV and hurt your back in the process. Use this system and just hit a button. Not a hunter, well, how about loading something off the ground into your UTV bed. The winch is a Warn 2000, the manufacture of this system recommends limiting to 350lbs so you don't damage your bed rail. This system is USA made, and a brain child of a gentlemen right here is Escambia County Fla. Asking $350 obo, will trade for a running Ford 351w. Call, email or text.
