QR Code Link to This Post Two guitarists, bassist, and drummer looking for a singer. We are a heavy metal band firmly rooted in older metal (Priest, Sabbath, Maiden, old Metallica, Slayer) yet also influenced by modern shit (FFDP, Breaking Benjamin, Godsmack, Lamb of God). We write our own tunes, usually tuned to drop C, although we do rip out some covers, at which time we usually tune to Eb. We are four dudes in their mid-40s who all have day jobs but are looking toward playing some gigs once we get everything down tight. Our ideal singer can growl with the pain of Tom Araya but is also able to hold a note and sing as well. Our current covers include The Trooper (Maiden), Burn In Hell (Twisted Sister), South of Heaven and Seasons in the Abyss (Slayer), Green Manalishi (Priest), Awake (Godsmack), and a few old Metallica tunes (For Whom The Bell Tolls, Seek and Destroy). Again, we are concentrated on writing original shit and intend to move forward in that vein.

We don't expect you to be Dickinson or Halford (no one is) but we also don't want a screamer only. Think Brian Fair or Randy Blythe. We are alcohol and herb-friendly. We play on Friday and Saturday nights at 26 Mile and County Line in Casco (that's northern Macomb County). We have a PA system so all you need is your throat. The guitarists write most of the music but we are all involved in the creative process so no attitudes are needed or wanted, just ideas. If you sing but can or have played other instruments, awesome. If interested please text Steve) or Bob). Thanks for looking \m/ \m/

NEW!!! In addition to the above post, please don't come to try out and have no clue what songs we are covering. Nothing is more annoying and wasteful of everyone's time than someone showing up wanting to cover Korn instead of Priest- we don't cover any Korn, nor will we, and our intent is NOT to be a cover band. This is an audition, so if you haven't even heard of the very common songs listed above, you are better served looking elsewhere. Don't leave drunken voicemails where I can't even understand your fuxxin name. Don't come in hopes of supplanting the drummer. Don't show up one week, disappear, then call a month later asking when we are gonna jam. Not trying to sound like a dick, but the above scenarios have occurred and while it is expected and comes with the territory, it just isn't fair to anyone involved.

If you already responded and I didn't call you back, I apologize. My phone had to reset so I lost several numbers!
