I know you're asking... why? Well... G-d has been very good to me. I build several high quality used systems every year (I don't deal in junk), and sell them for a very affordable price. Much, much less than what I paid to get into the DJ/Karaoke business. It's Christmas!!! This year I wanted to build a brand new system that would make someone very happy to see under the tree. So whether it's a young entrepreneur wanting to start a self sufficient business, a club or restaurant owner looking to increase their customers, but are strapped for cash, or that future star dedicating every beat of their heart to the music I want to give someone the lucky break they have been waiting for. Lord knows I've needed a lucky break from time to time.

Thanks for taking the time to read my ad.

Merry Christmas to all of you, and may G-d bless you all!!!

Again....please call only. I'm getting old. I can't see well enough to text. Thank!
