Think about the computer with the music. I belong to a music service that costs $24 a month for country and mainstream radio songs. I have belong to the service for 5 years; so does that mean the computer is worth $1500? Or is it more because it has other music on it as well? It's not so cut and dry to determine the value. In the end, it's worth whatever value it gets traded for! How much money do I have in the equipment? Well, now you know I have at least $1500 in the music loaded on it.

I have a bunch of DJ equipment that I would be willing to trade for a vehicle (has to be running.) Let me know what you have, the condition, and any known problems (although I am really not looking to take on anything with mechanical problems.) I do have a preference for low mileage; but may consider the right trade if it is interesting. Here's what I have:

2- 15" Community Speakers and stage monitor
2 Crest Audio Amps- VS900 and VS1500
DJ road case with power conditioner
4 channel Pyle wireless mics
Numark mixer
Lenovo laptop with DJ music loaded
Light up DJ facade with LED backlights installed
