QR Code Link to This Post We are based in Nashville and looking for a lead singer to join our ranks. This is a serious project with most of the members having a lot of past experience playing live. The ideal vocalist would have a uniqueness to their style and a wide dynamic range from clean singing to powerful heavies and everything in-between. If you are a rookie that is perfectly fine as long as you have the skills, personality, dedication, and attitude. Even if you have never done any hard rock/metal before, if you can sing with emotion and intensity we want to hear you! We do all original material that mixes many different styles and influences into our sound. It's hard to pin down our exact sub-genre, but we are very piano/key driven with a wide range of songs from lighter and slower to dark and heavy. Right now we practice every Sunday (10:30am to 4 or 5pm) and try to hook up at least one other day during the week. When it gets closer to us playing live we will be doing two set rehearsals a week.

Required Skills

- Be able to send an audio or video demo of you singing
- Have a professional attitude
- Be ultra dependable and able to put in the time
- Must have ambition, drive, and dedication
- No drug addicts
- No racists/bigots
- Must work well in a collaborative and creative group setting
- Be musically open minded
- Would find enjoyment in being part of a stage show
- Be able to take and give creative criticism
- Be at least 21

- Ability to write and contribute to lyrics

Absolutely no alcohol available for sale

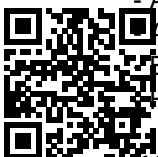

Be available to work some late hours during the week when needed

Have the ability to get to the club during sessions

If interested just shoot us a message.

Please include your vocal sample, age, location, and anything else you want to tell us.

Look forward to hearing
