Potential VoIP Challenges

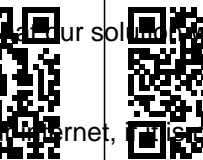

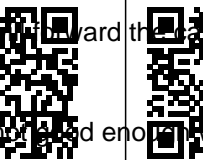

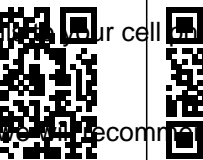

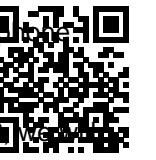

Just like any other emerging technology, VoIP has a few potential pitfalls, such as:

• Not So Good Services during Power Outages with no backup power. Our solution is to have a backup power source for our cell phone and any other phone.

• Number Porting can be a pain for each user.

• Poor Broadband Internet connections can cause low quality of service. We will test your internet, if it is good enough we will recommend you to get VoIP. We will tell you the truth, because we don't want you to have a bad VoIP experience
