 We are Unitone Music Studio, Does sound quality matter to you? Does great equipment matter to you? For serious musicians, the answer is definitely Yes! You want to get down all the details within 2 hours of rehearsal time, because time is money. We clean and adjust the tuning of every drum set every single day to make sure it's in excellent condition, so you can come in and play right away, without wasting your time. We have quality sound equipment and take pride in keeping a clean space. Our studio is sound-proofed with double layer drywall, insulation on each side, solid wood core doors with auto- lock rubber seals that reach STC 72-75 ratings. We have taken the great efforts to ensure acoustic sound treatment with carefully placed acoustic panels, foam and professionally built bass traps to reduce additional noise and reflections to ensure great sounding rooms you will be proud to practice in.
